

VILLAGE OF EVENDALE

JUNE, 2016

Dear Neighbors and Friends:

We were in the process of producing a better digital image of our Village seal. We use this same seal on our flag, letterhead, business cards and almost everything associated with the Village. As we were reviewing the seal, we began wondering what the Latin wording on the seal, Novus Ordo Seclorum, meant. After some detective work we learned that the English translation is roughly "New Order of the Ages" which is also on the back of the US dollar bill. However, there are those who tend to side with the conspiracy theorists who have interpreted the phrase to mean "New World Order".

Our seal originated in 1968, when Phi Lambda Pi held a contest to design the Village flag. The seal was part of the winning flag design submitted by Randy Dimond, son of Dr. Harold and Alice Dimond. The young man won a $100 bond as the winner. I feel that it is time to update our seal to reflect today's Evendale and replace the wording, preferably in English. If you have any suggestions please let us know.

There have been concerns raised by residents in regards to lead plumbing pipes in their homes. According to the Cincinnati Water Works, generally this is found in homes built prior to 1930; however, age of a structure alone may not be a reliable indicator.

A simple scratch test can be performed to determine if a plumbing line is lead. Use a coin and scratch the waterline coming into your home. If the pipe scratches easily and the mark is shiny and silver, then your service line may need to be tested for lead. A free water test kit, can be requested from Cincinnati Water Works by filling out the information listed on the online form at (<https://ctsprdweb.cincinnati-h.gov/apps/watercheck/leadanalysis.aspx>). Once you receive the kit follow the instructions on performing the test and return the kit to Cincinnati Water Works for testing. This is a free service and may take several weeks to return the results.

Sincerely,

Your Mayor

Getting to Know Your Neighbors

Having grown up in Evendale, I always knew what this Village had to offer. That is why Jeff and I knew we wanted to raise our family here. We live on Margate Terrace with our 4 boys, Justin, Kyle, Jack and Carson.

You can always find us out and about in Evendale. Whether at Gorman Farm, on the tennis courts, on a baseball field or at a swim meet, we like to stay active and use all of the wonderful amenities that Evendale has to offer.

I look forward to serving the residents of Evendale in my new role on Village Council. This is a very exciting time in Evendale with many developments and improvements happening. I am committed to keeping Evendale a wonderful place to live, work and play. Thank you for the support you have given me.

I can be reached by cell at 513-266-0233 or email beth.mcdaniel@evendaleohio.org

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Summer is officially here. If anyone in your family plan on biking this summer, even the short trip to the Recreation Center, make sure they have a proper bike helmet. The Fire Department sells Pro-Riders helmets. We have a large selection, in all sizes – from toddlers to adults. These helmets meet the US Consumer Products Safety Commission Standards. The cost for all helmets is $7.00. They can be purchased any weekday from 9:00 am – 4:00. Please call the Fire Department, 563-2248, if you have any questions.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Feeding deer, especially in a subdivision, could be a death sentence for them. This may sound a bit “over-the-top” but research supports the notion that it is a bad idea to feed them. We understand that many people enjoy seeing wildlife in their yards but several problems occur when deer are attracted to yards due to intentional or unintentional (bird feeders) supplemental feeding. Deer attracted to areas due to supplemental feeding will more than likely browse on landscaping plants and trees costing homeowners unnecessary expenses. With the concentration of deer to a particular area the potential for the spread of infectious diseases, especially the fatal Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD), increases. CWD has been reported in captive herds in Ohio and the division of wildlife recommends against feeding deer for this reason. Another more complicated issue involves the deer’s finely tuned digestive system. A deer’s diet in the winter is different from the other months of the year and their bodies naturally adapt. The increase in carbohydrates from corn or other wildlife feeds could be fatal. Deer can survive for up to a month in the winter without feeding. Mother Nature has wired them to survive without human intervention and it’s best to keep it that way.

ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT

Evendale officials have been actively monitoring Duke Energy’s proposed gas line extension project. The proposed 12-mile extension begins at a point North of I-275 in Sycamore Township and ends in the Norwood/Fairfax area. Duke has proposed 3 route options, one of which runs through Evendale. Evendale was the first municipality to file written opposition of the line with the Ohio Power Siting Board, the state authority that permits or denies gas line extensions. For more information, please visit the Village of Evendale website: bit.ly/ProposedGasRoute
