

August 2013

Dear Neighbors and Friends,

Over the past several years, the Village has been upgrading our street lights and traffic signals along Reading and Glendale-Milford Roads. It has been a time consuming project, but well worth it. I feel that these main thoroughfares provide visitors their first impression of Evendale and these new street lights, traffic signals and landscaped islands definitely generate a positive image of our Village.

Lately, we have found a number of signs taped to our new street and traffic signal poles. Not only do these signs clutter the intersections, they also cause tape buildup on the poles and often when tape is removed, the paint is removed as well. As a reminder, any type of sign is prohibited in the right-of-way, including signs affixed to poles. If you are going to put out a sign, please remember to place it ten feet behind the right-of-way and if you are not sure contact the Building Department at 956-2665.

Thank you to sixty-five residents who participated in the Village's blood drive on July 11th. Hoxworth Blood Center took over the south gym for this event. Throughout the afternoon and early evening hours there was a constant stream of residents: young and old; people who have given in the past and first time donors; some who scheduled their day so they could donate and others who walked in and volunteered on the spot. Many who participated remarked that it was a positive experience and that they would like to see Evendale continue a yearly blood drive. Thank you to Grace Rohs who organized this successful event.

Kinetic vision moved to their current location on Evendale Commons Drive in 2010. They provide full-service product process technology solutions on an international level. They were recently featured in an article on the hiVelocity website about their involvement in the Ohio Third Frontier Internship Program. Kinetic vision works with the University of Cincinnati to provide internships to engineering, computer science and information technology students. Their business continues to grow and thrive. We are thrilled to announce that they are building a second building on Evendale Commons Drive, adjacent to their current building (behind Menards). Congratulations and keep up the good work kinetic vision.

Our Evendale Eagles Swim Team came in first at the Northern Suburban Swim League Championships. Congratulations to all the coaches, swimmers and their parents for another successful season!

For a better and better Evendale...

College and retirement; you can do both!

"We were introduced to Todd Kelly, a Financial Advisor with Summit, at a seminar you hosted at the Rec Center in 2010. We attended to learn what other strategies we might need to take since we had 2 kids in college and had 3 more, not far behind. While we had attended other seminars/ lectures that offered similar insights, Summit's, no pressure, information awareness approach was appreciated. Todd guided us through some techniques to help us gain access to as much "free money" as possible and if we had a bit more time, would have possibly had even a better outcome. Please continue to host the Summit Financial Group to give other Evendale families the opportunity to learn about college planning. Tell them that the sooner they start the hunt, the better for kids in high school!" ~ Susan Spraul, Evendale Resident and mother of five.

Business of the Month

Complete Fastening Systems

3100 Exon Avenue

(513) 771-4171

Complete Fastening Systems, CFS, started as a branch operation of Columbus Fastening Corporation a little over 20 years ago. Having outgrown their location on Spartan Dr. they recently purchased, renovated and moved into a 23,000 sq.ft. building on Exon Avenue.

CFS focuses on the construction and industrial maintenance business maintaining one of the largest inventories of fasteners and related items in the Midwest. Stocking more than 68,500 different items, from bolts to saw blades you can find it at Complete Fastening Systems.

Complete Fastening Systems is open Monday through Friday from 7:30am to 4:30pm. CFS has a full service will call and counter service and boasts a 98% daily fill rate on orders. Contact Steve Chambers or anyone of the helpful folks at Complete Fastening Systems for more details.
