

VILLAGE OF EVENDALE

NOVEMBER 2023

Dear Neighbors and Friends,

I am pleased to report that Evendale has been invited to participate in a 30+ member consortium of Southwest Ohio local governments, universities, and private businesses, including GE Aerospace. The Consortium is seeking $65 million in grant funding from the Federal Economic Development Agency for advanced regional aerospace innovation. Our AeroHub project was specifically identified in the Round 1 grant application. Additionally, to further facilitate regional prosperity, we introduced Senate Bill 75 through our State Senator, Bill Blessing. The Bill would enable two municipalities, without a Township, to form a Joint Economic Development District (JEDD). In past newsletters, I've talked about the City of Cincinnati and Hamilton County working together to relocate the Cincinnati Firing Range in Evendale, to a new site in Colerain Township. The City and County have made significant planning and funding progress on the new Range but it will likely take 2+/- years before the new facility is completed. The vacated Evendale site would be perfect for commercial redevelopment. Evendale has already rezoned the land for inclusion in AeroHub. Having the ability to form a JEDD with our neighbors, Lincoln Heights, could help their community redevelop their commercial land along I-75. Although HB 75 recently passed the Senate, it now must pass the House. The Bill would then need the Governor's signature before it becomes effective. We are hopeful this will occur in 2024.

In October, The Gorman Heritage Farm had a record-setting Sunflower Festival with 8,000 people attending the two-day event and selling $18,000 in flowers (the previous record was $13,000). Total festival revenue was $120,000, also a new record. WOW and Congratulations! Additionally, the Farm was recently recognized for its contributions to the area; I attended the dedication of their H2Ohio project. Farm CEO Nicole Gunderman and her team deserve praise.

The Planning Commission is currently reviewing potential revisions to our zoning code definitions and rental property regulations. While the Village cannot prohibit a property owner from renting their home we have codes prohibiting short-term rental situations. Additionally, the Village does not permit multi-family or apartment uses. The proposed revisions affirm our commitment to protecting the single-family nature of our residential neighborhoods. The Planning Commission meets every third Tuesday of the month; however, please check our website for meeting agendas, date/time changes, or cancellations.

Phase III improvements to the Recreation Center will start soon which includes the old gym and fitness center areas. Improvements will include: replacing carpets and painting throughout the Southwest end of the Center and expanding Miss Patti's Childcare Room. Also, we are exploring reimagining our racquetball court area due to low use and water damage. I will keep you posted.

Don't forget the Town Meeting on November 5th. It starts at 5:00 p.m. in the Recreation Center. Then remember to vote on November 7th (polls are open 6:30 a.m.- 7:30 p.m.).

GORMAN HERITAGE FARM

Sunflower Festival a Big Success!

Thank you to everyone who came out to the Farm's annual Sunflower Festival. We so appreciate the support and patience we receive from our Evendale neighbors as we host this important event. The Festival raises important funds for the Farm and it is also a great marketing opportunity, introducing so many new people to what we have to offer right here in Evendale, Ohio!

The Moushey Family, Doug and Erin with their children Will, Ben and Max enjoying the Sunflower Festival. Photographer Joe Simon For The Enquirer

Quick snapshot of the weekend's numbers:

- 8,000 people in attendance over two days
 - 33 craft vendors + 10 food trucks
 - 18,000 sunflowers picked by guests
 - 150 volunteers to help staff make it happen
- Memories made with friends and family - Priceless!

We had great media coverage on Channel 12 WKRC, the Cincinnati Enquirer, and Cincinnati CityBeat. Here are a couple links to photo spreads:

Quilt Raffle Tickets - Drawing Nov 3rd!

Get your tickets today! Drawing at 4pm on Friday, November 3rd.

Each year the GHF Quilters Club hand-sews a farm-themed quilt and raffles it off to raise funds for the Farm. 2023's quilt features farm harvests, intricate stitches, and beautiful colors. It measures 60 x 60 inches and is perfect for hanging up to display or using as a cozy blanket. With its pastel theme this year it would even make a lovely baby gift!

Tickets are available at the Farm Shop during our open hours and online at this link: <https://www.gormanfarm.org/quilt-affle/>

The Centerpiece of your Thanksgiving Dinner

You can't get any more local or sustainable than a turkey from your neighborhood farm! Our turkey is raised in the Bank Barn pasture, eating seeds, bugs, and plants while enjoying warm sunshine. Their diet is fortified with non-GMO feed including corn grown right here on the Farm! As a result, our turkeys are not only healthier, but tastier too. Reserve your turkey in advance; we sell out every year. Turkeys are first come, first served, so if you want a specific size, please arrive early at pickup on Monday, November 20th to have the best selection of weights.

Order on our website at this link: <https://www.gormanfarm.org/meats/>

Wetland Project Ribbon Cutting

We were happy to welcome Mayor Finan to the Ribbon Cutting for our Wetland on Friday, September 29th. This new addition to the Farm was funded by a grant from the H2Ohio Ohio River Basin program, supported by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. And it has already demonstrated its success by trapping and holding storm water thus reducing damage to our site, and allowing sediment, nutrients, and bacteria to settle before the water to trickles into our stream. This stream is a tributary of the Mill Creek which in turn feeds into the Ohio River - our region's source of drinking water. Wetlands are a farm's good friend, helping us alleviate non point-source pollution and enhancing the biodiversity of our site. We have already seen wild birds enjoying the wetland that had not been spotted on our property before, including sandpipers, herons, and migratory warblers! Be on the lookout in early 2024 for some more.

Sustainable Home Food Production

On Sunday, November 12th from 1:00-3:30, join our Garden Educator, Jason Kamp, for an introduction to growing your own food at home. This program begins with an indoor talk and provides take-home resources to assist your efforts. It then heads outside (weather depending) for a guided tour of our gardens. Come learn the ins and outs of bed preparation, healthy soil, vegetable selection and timing, edible landscaping, weed management, and more.

This program always sells out, so register early. Then you'll have the winter to dream, make your plans, and get ready for some spring gardening! Register online here: <https://www.gormanfarm.org/adult-and-family-programs/intro-to-sustainable-home-food-production/>
